Earthquake Smith: He Gives Panther Scream From the Ozark Hills

(Letters to The Editor)

Editor The Star: (Enclosing Jan. 21 edition of the Harrison (Ark.) Times with pictures of two big old homes) Look at these lovely old homes. They are going to be torn down for a new building. How I would like to have either one of these beautiful houses — or any one of the 200 beautiful houses, big or little, that they have torn down in Harrison. Harrison is a shambles... a real shambles.

They have absolutely destroyed the town. They howled their heads off at the time of the flood in May 1961 — and then they started in tearing down houses. Urban Renewal was for cities where the slums were so terrible that they constituted fire hazards and health hazards. Urban Renewal was not originally intended for small towns which had no slums. There were no slums in Harrison.

Every house they tore down was an individual dwelling, in an individual setting — every one was painted white and had its own green lawn. They tore down brick buildings that would last forever. They went through like mad monsters and destroyed things that were lovely and beautiful. They chopped down trees that took 300 years to grow.

This has been the most ghastly sight I have ever seen.

Of course this is all political. Somebody is making a million dollars out of this raid on the Treasury of the U.S. And these same people who are getting rich off Urban Renewal will scream to high heaven about "government spending" — which is to fool the common, ignorant slob into thinking they (the screamers) are taking care of their little interests.

When I was a small child, my Scottish grandmother used to tell me that willful waste makes woeful want. I believe that is true. And I believe Harrison will see the day that it will pay a thousand times for this horrible and willful waste of this area.

Whenever any man or group of men or any town or city or state sacrifices a principle for an expedient the results can not be good. Here in Harrison they want so bad to be big like Chicago or New York. You can see that thought running through all this that they are doing. These big ducks in this little pond do not want to remain big ducks in a little pond. They want to be big ducks in a big pond. They have an inferiority complex, and they think it is somehow shameful to live in a small town. So they are busting out all over to make this appear to be a big town.

When I decided to come to the Ozarks in 1958 I first looked at the place before buying this 40 acres. At that time Harrison was the prettiest little country town I had ever seen. It was quaint. It was beautiful. It had all those hand-built rock buildings — the native rocks of the surrounding area, ideally suited to the place — and which advertised the handiwork and the ingenuity of the native-born people who could take these rocks and build beautiful homes and stores.

Harrison had old-fashioned stores, where you could smell candy, coal oil, leather, hardware, all mingled, and which were the last stand of a by-gone day. Homey, friendly, kindly, simple. There were benches at various spots for the people who had got a ride with a neighbor to come to town. They sat there waiting to get back home.

The beautiful rock buildings are torn down — because this modern craze to be like Detroit has driven the present rulers of Harrison to be ashamed of them. Those that have not been torn down have been covered with stucco. The art work of their fathers defaced with cheap, unartistic concrete!

A man who was a veteran of World War I had a little popcorn stand at a corner and he augmented his pension by the small sales. He was made to move his popcorn stand — take it out of town — as it "did not look nice for a town to have a popcorn stand in it."

This is God's truth. The man himself told me.

A human being is less valued than a neat corner — with no little popcorn stand there beside the new Federal Savings Co.

Oh, if I had not sunk all my savings into paying cash for this place I would abandon it and leave. These five years I have been here have been five years of heart-sickness — merely seeing man's stupidity at work. The same houses that they wanted to get out of Harrison — any that were not torn down — were hauled out of the city limits and set up on the highways. Right here on State Highway 7 there are three or four of them, which they had hauled out of town.

Now if they were not good enough for the city of Harrison how come they are good enough for the country?

Some day I will leave here.

Ed Note: Don't go, Dede. You're a fascinating monster. I thought I was a fair shaker myself — but I'm abdicating in favor of Earthquake Smith, Harrison, Ark.

Editor The Star: When I was at the Little Rock airport a week ago today I bought an Arkansas Gazette, which carried a story on you and the stand you have taken against plans to build a $500,000 post office in Hope.

Congratulations and good luck! This is a wonderful demonstration of responsible citizenship and good old-fashioned common sense.

Too bad that the county's population is less than it used to be, instead of greater. If the town has many citizens like you, it must be a good place to live.

FHA Loans to Hempstead Farm, Other Families During Past Year Total $712,165

Hempstead County farm and other families borrowed $712,165 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Farmers Home Administration in 1963 to improve farming operations, buy and enlarge farms, build houses, install water systems and for other development purposes. Jeff High, local supervisor of the agency reported this week.

Some 74 families in the county used this credit from the agency during the year, either as individual borrowers of direct loans or insured loans. Loans are made by Farmers Home Administration only to qualified borrowers who can not obtain credit from banks, Production Credit Associations and other conventional lenders.

Under an insured program of the agency, these lenders also provide about 80 percent of the funds loaned by Farmers Home Administration and secured by real estate.

Hempstead County families paid the agency $265,466 in interest and principal on loans outstanding during the year.

Mr. High also reported that a management assistance to Farmers Home Administration borrowers in the county is the most important aspect of his work.

A total of $184,160 went to 38 families in Hempstead County to pay for equipment, feed, seed, livestock and for other farm and home operating needs, and to refinance chattel debts.

Initial Farm Ownership loans totaling about $292,700 were used by 23 farmers to enlarge, develop and buy farms not larger than family size and to refinance debts.

Rural housing loans estimated at $61,500 were made to 10 farmers and rural residents. The Farmers Home Administration office serving Hempstead County is located at 101 Courthouse, Hope, Arkansas.

Murder Trial Underway in Mississippi

By BILL CRIDER
JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Byron de la Beckwith's defense lawyer today began weeding out some of the 12 white men submitted by the state as jurors for Beckwith's trial.

One man was dismissed when he agreed he had read some of the letters to the editor published by Jackson newspapers and considered them extremist.

Beckwith, 43, a dapper ex-Marine from Greenwood, Miss., is accused of lying in ambush for Negro civil rights leader Medgar Evers and shooting him in the back at Evers' home here last June 12.

Dist. Atty. William L. Waller, 37, accepted 12 white male jurors at the end of a night session. They now come under interrogation by the defense.

Seven Negroes on the 200-man special venire were not among those called. Most of the sparse audience of about 35 were Negro. A big crowd urged by Negro leaders did not materialize.

Everyone who entered the heavily guarded courtroom was first searched, then had to sign name and home address to an admission list.

Evers, 37, was state field secretary for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

He was cut down by a sniper with a high-powered rifle during the midst of an NAACP drive to crack rigid racial barriers in this segregation stronghold.

The defense battery — which includes former Gov. Ross Barnett's law partner, Hugh Cunningham — was financed by a Citizens Council.

U.S. Plane Is Reported Down

BONN, Germany (AP) — A U. S. official said today he had a report that a U. S. Air Force plane had been shot down over Communist-ruled East Germany.

He said he had no precise information on the location.

At Wiesbaden, Air Force headquarters said a two-man T29 trainer is missing.

Formosa Is Reassured by the U.S.

By ROBERT ENSON
TOKYO (AP) — The United States "will never abandon the 12 million people on Taiwan (Formosa) to Communist tyranny," Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared tonight.

Rusk spelled out the U.S. attitude towards Peking's Red rulers at a dinner winding up a U.S. - Japan Cabinet conference on trade and economic problems.

"Peking still insists upon the surrender of Taiwan as the sine qua non of any improvement whatever in relations with the United States," Rusk said.

"We are loyal to our commitments to the government of the Republic of China."

In a detailed indictment of the Communist regime, President Johnson's No. 1 Cabinet official declared:

"Peking has violated the Geneva agreements of 1954 on Indochina and the Geneva agreements of 1962 on Laos. It incites and actively supports aggression on Southeast Asia."

"Peking attacked India and occupies a position from which it continues to threaten the sub-continent of South Asia."

"Peking is attempting to extend its tactics of terror and subversion into Latin America and Africa."

"In other words, Peking is demonstrating every day that it has nothing but contempt for the most elementary condition of peace: namely, leave your neighbors alone."

"Free nations must not reward the militancy of Peking or give Communists anywhere any ground for hope of profit from the use or threat of force."

Rusk said the American people have deep sympathy for the plight of the people on the Chinese mainland "look forward to the time when it will be possible to resume our historic ties of friendship with them."

"When mainland China has a government which is prepared to renounce force, to make peace and to honor international responsibilities, it will find us responsive," he said.

Rusk met with Japanese Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda earlier today but there were conflicting reports over how deeply they went into the Red China issue.

A U. S. spokesman said Rusk and Ikeda agreed to state publicly that they discussed "the French recognition of Communist China." Yasumi Kurogane, secretary of the Japanese Cabinet, told newsmen the recognition question was not raised since it had been examined by Rusk and Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira.

The conflicting reports supported belief that the United States and Japan do not agree on what to do about French recognition. Rusk has made two unsuccessful attempts to convince Ohira of the desirability of working together to prevent the spread of the recognition move.

The Japanese government has expressed hope that French recognition will not upset the unity of the anti-Communist world. It indicated it has no intention of breaking relations with Nationalist China but said it will pursue an independent policy toward Red China.

Bribe Attempt Told in Trial of James Hoffa

By GAVIN SCOTT
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)

A nervous Nashville policeman admitted today he knew of an attempt to bribe a juror in James R. Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial. But, he said, he did not report it to his superiors. James T. Walker, the policeman, was cross-examined by defense lawyers in the jury-tampering trial of the Teamsters Union president and five other men. All are accused of trying to influence jurors in the earlier trial in Nashville.

Referring to conversations he said he had with Thomas Ewing Parks, one of the six on trial, Walker said: "Parks told me: 'We'd be willing to pay up to $10,000 to Mr. Fields.'"

Walker referred to Gratian Fields, a juror who was re-

Man Thinks Plumbicare Needed Most

WASHINGTON (AP) — You have heard of medicare but "plumbicare" may have escaped you.

As proposed by Dalton Matthews, Wynne, Ark., in a letter to Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark.: "Plumbicare is a plan by which we can save through Social Security for our old age."

It is a known fact, Matthews wrote, "that people over age 65 have more plumbing troubles than young people."

Under plumbicare, he said, "All the plumbing bills for the aged would be paid. It would be financed through social security. . . . We want the bill so drawn that it will pay plumbing bills for rich old folks."

Urging that Gathings draft and introduce a plumbicare bill, Matthews said if the idea caught on, the way would be clear next for "Electricare, autotocare, tevecare, rentacare and ultimately, funecare."

Gathings hastily dispatched copies of Matthews' letter to other Arkansas members of Congress and at the same time asked Matthews to clear up the question of whether plumbicare "would disrupt the traditional relationship between the plumber and his patient (often impatient) client."

Red China Tells France to Break With Formosa

TOKYO (AP) — Red China served notice today it expects France to break relations with Nationalist China, but a French spokesman made clear his government will refuse. Thus, a day after they announced they were entering upon diplomatic relations, France and Red China were at odds on how they will go about it.

Red China's Foreign Ministry in a statement broadcast by Radio Peking, declared Peking does not recognize a two-Chinas concept.

This was a blow to President Charles de Gaulle's policy of trying to maintain relations with both the Communist and Nationalist China.

In Paris, a French government spokesman said France has neither the intention nor desire to break with the Nationalist government on Formosa.

The French government stood by the text of Monday's communiqué saying the two nations had agreed to establish diplomatic relations and would name ambassadors within three months.

The Red Chinese statement said Red China, in agreeing to enter into diplomatic relations with France, understood Paris would break with Nationalist China.

This is contrary to what French official sources had said. They insisted Peking had not asked to end relations with President Chiang Kai-shek's regime on Formosa.

Nationalist China denounced French recognition of Red China, but stopped short of breaking off relations.

In Tokyo, visiting U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk stoutly supported Nationalist China in a speech. Later he told reporters in referring to French recognition of Red China:

"We have no doubt about the militancy of Peiping (Peking). We think it would be a serious matter for the authorities in Peiping to believe that a policy of militancy pays dividends, that it is profitable because on that issue may turn the peace of the world."

Rusk accused Red China of violating its pledges to keep the peace in Southeast Asia. In his speech to the Japan-America Society, Rusk declared the United States recognizes only Nationalist China and "will never abandon the 12 million people on Taiwan (Formosa) to Communist tyranny."

Red China's foreign ministry statement noted that "according to international practice, recognition of the new government of a country usually implies ceasing to recognize the old ruling group overthrown by the people."

Says France to Continue Chiang Ties

PARIS (AP) — A French spokesman today said France has no intention or desire to break relations with the Chinese Nationalist government of President Chiang Kai-shek.

The spokesman was commenting on a statement by Red China that it expects France to break relations with the Nationalists.

The spokesman said France is standing on the text of the communiqué issued Monday in which Peking and Paris announced their decision to establish diplomatic relations.

The spokesman said as far as France is concerned, there were no conditions or strings attached to this statement.

Thus within hardly more than 24 hours, Paris and Peking seemed already at odds on the interpretation to be given to their new diplomatic relationship.

In its statement issued in Peking, the Communist regime said that it was well understood that the recognition of one government means the repudiation of the old government which had been overthrown, and that the territory of China included the island of Formosa, home of the Chinese Nationalists.

Foreman Out of Water, Drilling Well

FOREMAN, Ark. (AP) — A Stuttgart drilling firm pushed a six-inch bit through dry earth east of Foreman today in an attempt to strike water and restore it to this Southwest Arkansas town of 1,200 persons.

The city well began bringing up heavy amounts of sand Monday, forcing the city to stop pumping water into its distribution system.

Water was being trucked from Ashdown, 16 miles to the east. The tank trucks were to dump the water into the city reservoir as soon as workmen with shovels finished cleaning out the sand.

The Layne-Arkansas Drilling Co. planned to go 90 feet into the earth for a temporary well until Foreman can repair its main well or dig another.

Workers theorized that an underground cave in caused the old well to begin pumping sand. The temporary well was expected to be in operation by midnight. Meanwhile, many residents of Foreman had filled jugs and jars with water for necessities.

The temporary well was being drilled just 25 feet from the old well. The drillers hoped to hit the same underground stream.

Foreman had no fire protection. A house caught fire Monday night and was destroyed.

No one was injured.

Mayor James T. McGuyre appealed to residents on television Monday night to stop burning and ration water.

McGuyre said the city would haul some water from the Arkansas Cement Corp. plant at Foreman. The firm has its own well but McGuyre said the water is not very suitable for drinking.

He said the water would be chlorinated and said it would be used strictly as an emergency source.

Little River County Rep. Marion Crank, who lives near Foreman, said the state Civil Defense had promised to send a tank truck to haul water from Ashdown and said there was a possibility that the town could get another truck.

Foreman uses 150,000 gallons of water daily and the combined capacity of the two trucks would be between 7,200 and 8,200 gallons.

McGuyre said it would probably be a week before the water supply is returned to normal.

Another Aid to JFK Resigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur Schlesinger Jr. today became the second key White House adviser to the late President Kennedy to submit his resignation to President Johnson.

Schlesinger will leave the White House staff March 1. Asst. press secretary Andrew

T. Hatcher said Schlesinger plans to write a book about the "Kennedy years." A noted historian, he was on the Harvard faculty before joining Kennedy's staff as special assistant.

Theodore C. Sorenson, Kennedy's special White House counsel, submitted his resignation earlier to take effect at the end of February.

Schlesinger's letter of resignation was dated Jan. 25. In a reply letter dated today, Johnson said he accepted the resignation "with much regret."

the people of that country."

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China declared today it does not recognize the "two Chinas" concept in establishing diplomatic relations with France.

A statement issued by the Communist Chinese Foreign Ministry said "according to international practice, recognition of the new government of a country naturally implies ceasing to recognize the old ruling group overthrown by the people of that country."

The text of the statement was broadcast by the New China News Agency monitored here tonight.

"Consequently, the representatives of the old ruling group can no longer be regarded as representatives of that country to present side by side with the representatives of the new government in one and the same country or international organization," the statement said.

"It was with this understanding that the government of the People's Republic (Communist) China reached agreement with the government of the French Republic on the establishment of diplomatic relations and exchange of ambassadors between China and France."

"The Chinese government deems it necessary to reaffirm that Taiwan (National China) is part of China's territory and that any attempt to detach Taiwan from China or otherwise to create 'two Chinas' is absolutely unacceptable to the Chinese government and people."

In Taipei, meanwhile, the Nationalist Chinese government renewed its threat to break off relations with France.

Possibility of Perjury in Baker Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican National Chairman William E. Miller called today for Senate investigators to inquire into what he termed a "clear issue of possible perjury" in the Robert G. Baker case.

Miller told a news conference there is "direct conflict" between the testimony of two witnesses over the purchase of advertising time on the Austin, Tex., television station controlled by President Johnson's family.

In sworn testimony to Senate investigators, Don B. Reynolds, Silver Spring, Md., insurance agent, said he was persuaded by Walter Jenkins, one of Johnson's aides, to buy $1,200 worth of time on the station after he sold $200,000 in life insurance on Johnson's life.

Jenkins denied a sworn affidavit that he knew of such an arrangement.

Miller demanded that the Senate Rules Committee, which is inquiring into the activities of Baker, resigned secretary to the Senate Democratic majority, go fully into this matter.

Witness in Cosa Nostra Case Bombed

CHICAGO (AP) — An insurance broker who turned informer on Chicago's Cosa Nostra was reported in satisfactory condition today after a dynamite bomb planted in his car exploded Monday near the Criminal Court Building.

The bomb exploded when Lewis C. Barbe, 32, switched on the ignition. The blast threw Barbe from the car onto the street, severely mangled his right leg.

Asked if he knew who planted the bomb, Barbe said: "Never mind. I'll get them in my own way."

Police said the bomb, composed of at least six sticks of dynamite, apparently was planted while Barbe was in Criminal Court in connection with his indictment along with seven other men for conspiracy to commit theft of $48,000 by fraud on an insurance firm.

Barbe is considered the prosecution's chief witness against reputed Cosa Nostra leader Marshall Caifano, 52, and six other alleged racketeers. Barbe last year told police he had evidence linking several Chicago hoodlums with insurance fraud schemes.

moved during the 1962 trial. He did not identify "we." Walker, Parks and Fields all are Nashville Negroes.

Asked by Parks' lawyer, Jacques Schiffer of New York if he reported the conversation to Nashville police superiors, Walker replied, "No."

Then, turning to U.S. Dist. Judge Frank Wilson, Walker said he did tell federal authorities about the meetings he said he had with Parks.

He explained that he did not report the matter voluntarily because, he said, nothing illegal occurred in his presence.

Walker, returning to the stand this morning to continue testimony begun Monday, is the fourth government witness to be called. He began testifying immediately after Hoffa's lawyers stopped J.C. Tippens of Nashville, a key government witness, from testifying Monday. The judge sustained defense arguments that no basis had been laid for Tippens' testimony.

Protests Are Revived in Atlanta, Ga.

By DON MCKEE

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Militant civil rights leaders planned today for more mass protests of segregation after more than 100 persons went to jail Monday in street demonstrations.

A siege of the downtown area for the third night by marching, milling demonstrators, mostly Negro students, heightened the worst racial crisis in years for this city.

Despite mounting arrests, now nearly 200, youth leaders said they would continue the mass onslaught, centered on a segregated restaurant.

Police officers declared a state of emergency Monday night in the busy downtown area surrounding Lebe's, a restaurant which refuses to serve Negroes.

Demonstrations began with about 50 pickets walking around the block on which Lebe's is located.

When they refused to disperse they were hauled off to jail. Cheers and applause came from hundreds of white spectators.

Three hours later, demonstrations resumed.

About 150 circled city jail twice, then walked several blocks to join about 50 others in marching around the block at Lebe's for nearly two hours. Police stopped them.

Chanting and singing, the demonstrators massed in a narrow street a block from Lebe's. Paddy wagons drew up and near-bedlam ensued.

Some of the crowd leaped eagerly into the vehicle.

When the next paddy wagon pulled up, demonstrators went limp. Hoisted bodily into the vehicle by white and Negro policemen, the demonstrators kicked, screamed and struggled wildly.

They pounded and kicked inside the paddy wagon.

Policemen were hard pressed to keep their balance as the mass surged and milled about them with yells and chants.

Hundreds of white spectators milled about the sidewalks. Policemen kept them moving.

Demonstrators staged protests later at the jail and some were arrested. Police threw a cordon around entrances to jail property.

Negro comedian Dick Gregory, jailed Sunday and released on his signature, was arrested again.

34 Million Bushels Soybeans in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Stocks of soybeans in Arkansas on Jan. 1 were 34,820,000 bushels, four per cent less than the record high of 36,318,000 bushels on hand a year earlier, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

Stocks of wheat in Arkansas Jan. 1 totaled 2,080,000 bushels, down 11 per cent from a year earlier.

Corn stocks were not listed separately for Arkansas to avoid disclosing individual operations.

Jobless Draw $12.7 Millions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Employment Security Division issued checks for $12,797,000 to 48,271 unemployed workers covered by the unemployment insurance law in 1963. J. L. Bland, administrator, said Monday.

In 1962, 49,952 unemployed received one per cent more—$12,817,622.

Bland said the average check for total unemployment in 1963 was $23.87, compared to $23.72 in 1962. The ESD found jobs for 295,181 persons last year, he said.

Somebody Didn't Pull That Plug

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first two-stage Saturn 1, believed to be the world's most powerful rocket, sits on its launching pad today because somebody forgot to pull a plug.

Monday's mistake, which caused postponement of the test launching until Wednesday, also cost American taxpayers several thousand dollars.

Neither the National Aeronautics and Space Administration nor the Air Force could produce the exact amount the neglect cost the taxpayers. Estimates of salaries involved for the 200-man launching pad team was $18,000.

The Air Force, which operates the Atlantic Missile Range, said it cost the space agency about $20,000 an hour for use of the range—fuel, range safety, tracking and other support facilities during the final hours of the countdown.

The operation ties up five Air Force Service aircraft assigned to recover performance-recording cameras which are to be ejected from the rocket during flight. No estimate was available on the cost.

The Air Force emphasized that all agencies which use the missile range are geared to absorb such costs because of the number of missile shot postponements, caused by technical or weather reasons.

The countdown on the Saturn 1, which is too boost the heaviest satellite ever sent aloft, had been under way 11 hours when it was discovered that a line which funnels liquid oxygen oxidizer to the fuel tanks was not delivering. Technicians then found that someone had forgotten to remove a test device called a "blind flange."

The flange, an aluminum plate, was inserted in the line two or three days previously during a line pressure leak check.

"It was carelessness on the whole (200-man) team, a human error," said Rocco Petrone, a project official. "It was a routine procedure that we've done many times before. This time, we didn't do it. We make mistakes."

Thinks River Work to Be on Schedule

By GARYLORD SHAW

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma congressmen assured state editors and publishers Monday that the Arkansas River navigation project may be completed by the target date of 1970 despite a requested cutback in funds.

Discussion of the $1.2 billion project dominated a question and answer session five of the state's eight congressmen at the mid-winter meeting of the Oklahoma Press Association.

There were predictions from Washington earlier that President Johnson's economy-minded budget would wreck hopes for meeting the 1970 completion date.

Johnson's budget requested Congress to appropriate $86 million less than sought by the U.S. Corps of Engineers.

U.S. Rep. Tom Steed told the editors, "We're a long way from being very badly crippled" because of the cutback.

Sen. Mike Monroney said the shortage in funds could result in "a year's slippage," but said the important factor is the budget calls for planning of the vital Webber's Falls Dam and Lock, and the engineering work — not as costly as actual construction — can start.

He then said it may be possible for the navigation work to be completed by 1970.

Sen. J. Howard Edmondson agreed with Monroney, saying, "We could get back on schedule and it could be completed by 1970."

Rep. Ed Edmondson said one of the best ways for President Johnson to implement his program to eliminate "pockets of poverty" in the nation "is to expedite the Arkansas project and not slow it down."

He contends the project will boost the economy of Eastern Oklahoma and Western Arkansas.

Cold Weather Grips Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold weather gripped the Midwest today with below zero temperatures for the fourth straight day in some areas, but a warming trend was in prospect for the chilled northern Plains.

The mercury dropped to 19 below zero in Hibbing, in northern Minnesota. The subzero zone covered areas in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Wisconsin, and Iowa with temperatures near zero in other Midwest states.

Readings in North Dakota were much higher than Monday when a low of 30 below zero was reported in Williston. The -6 in Grand Forks was one of the lowest marks in the state.

In the East, snow and wind squalls lashed areas in the eastern Great Lakes region and the northern Appalachians. Fairly heavy snow was indicated in western New York State.

Duke - Thomas Rites Are Read

The Providence Baptist Church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Peggy Joyce Duke and Ralph Thomas of Winnsboro, La., on Saturday, January 25. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke of Hope, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ed Thomas of Winnsboro.

White gladioli and stocks decorated the church for the double-ring ceremony which was performed at 7 p.m. by Elder Chester Daniels. Music was furnished by Miss Carl Ann Taylor, pianist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white shantung suit with matching accessories. Her ensemble was completed with a white pill box from which her bridal veil fell. She carried a white bible topped with a white orchid and white carnations.

Miss Pat Rogers, the maid of honor, wore a violet suit, and her hat was of the same hue. Her flowers were white carnations.

A little article we recently read called "Thought of The Month" asks the question "How much is a smile worth?"

It says, in substance, that a smile costs nothing, but creates much. It happens in a flash, and the memory of it sometimes lasts forever. None are so rich they can get along without it, and none are so poor; but they're richer for its benefit. A smile cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen; it is no earthly good to anybody until it is given away. If in the rush of everyday life some should be too tired to give you a smile, leave one of yours. Nobody needs a smile so much as those who have none left to give!

We like this very much and, girls, if you visit Raley's Style Shoppe, you will have smiles for everyone!

Our spring merchandise is the smartest ever! Each morning we go through the stock, and always we could select at least ten or twelve complete outfits we would just LOVE to have!

For instance, the pure silk Sidrau of Dallas dresses, very simple lines, tie belts some with regular waistlines, colors that are simply elegant and a dress that you will wear from now on into the summer. They are fully lined; the prices are from $29.95 up.

We would also like you to see our suits. Carefully tailored in a gently feminine manner, slender-making skirts and Chanel jackets. They are from the most celebrated fabrics, and the prices will please you: $39.95 and $49.95.

We guarantee you smiles of happiness when you see our spring hats. The smart little straw in black, bone and red is popping time, and we will be looking for you at Raley's Style Shoppe, Hope's House of Fashion.

Labor Eying Big Rise in Profits

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The big rise in profits being announced almost daily by one or more leading corporations is being watched as closely by labor unions as it is by shareowners and the stock market.

Business earnings as a whole set a record in 1963. But it's the better than average gains in some industries and by many top firms that is catching the eye of labor just now.

General Motors made $1.6 billion last year and has a labor contract to negotiate this summer. Other corporations announcing profits in excess of a billion each are AT&T and Jersey Standard Oil.

More than 100 contracts covering at least two million workers expire this year and must be replaced. Almost as many more workers have contracts that can be reopened on demand for wage negotiations. Another 1.5 million automatically get wage increases this year under terms of existing contracts.

In the last few years most corporations were complaining of diminishing profit margins—some still do—and concentrating on cost-cutting and increased mechanization to fight the trend.

In the light of that, labor's stress has been less on sizable wage-scale increases than on fringe benefits and, last year in particular, on job security. The bogey has been automation and the fear of a shrinking number of jobs and of the outdating of many old skills.

But mechanization and cost-cutting, along with rising sales and production, are making themselves felt now. The factors have combined to produce the results showing up now in the steady flow of announcements of rising profits. This was especially true of the final months of 1963, which pushed many big corporations to record high earnings for the year.

Some of the reported profit gains have been tempered by bookkeeping. The Treasury relaxed the rules on depreciation, so that many companies last year could write off more wear and tear before reporting gross earnings. This cut both their federal income tax bills and their reported net income.

Some corporations took advantage of a 7 per cent tax credit for new equipment bought in 1963, as allowed in a bill passed by Congress.

If Congress also passes the tax cut bill now before the Senate, the effect on 1964 profits will be mixed. Rates of corporate income taxes will be cut, making for a neat gain in net profits. But the dates of payment for taxes will be advanced so that many corporations will be paying out money sooner than in previous years and this will show up in 1964 bookkeeping.

But the tax cut bill also is expected to boom the economy in general and this could mean more business, and presumably more profits.

Along with an eye on getting more of the corporate money pie in the form of higher wage scales, labor leaders also are talking of asking for higher pay for overtime. The chief argument is that this would make overtime less attractive to corporate management and open up more jobs for the unemployed.

But in arguing for more pay for overtime, the unions also are likely to point to high profits as putting companies in the position to pay it.

President Johnson has warned against setting off a new spiral of rising wages in unions. He has urged moderation on union leaders. He has even suggested that higher profits might better be tempered by lower prices to the consumer.

What labor will do, what management will do, what Congress will do, all is up in the air just now. But the scene is laid for some tough bargaining.

In 1849, Fort Smith and Van Buren were starting points for gold seekers taking the overland trail to California.

THE TALE OF TWO SISTERS

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: Please tell me in the name of Heaven why an unhappy wife is better off than any career girl? —One Who Knows

Dear One: I can best answer that by telling the story of two sisters who had the same start in life; a Bronx tenement they called home; education of a sort in a neighborhood school—neither went beyond first year high. Both are beauties, the babyface type with big blue eyes and blonde curls.

Each had a boy friend. The younger sister married hers—a no-good who played the ponies, drank at the corner saloon and never brought home the bacon. The older sister went to Hollywood, became a famous movie star and never married.

She has everything: gorgeous home with the inevitable swimming pool; beautiful clothes,

Seek Identity of Two Bodies

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) —North Little Rock authorities are seeking the identity of two bodies found on the bank of the Arkansas River, one Sunday and the other Monday.

The bodies were about 300 yards apart. The body of the first man was found about six hours after firemen extinguished a grass fire. A bottle of cleaning fluid was found near the bodies. Detective Lt. Billy Carroll said.

jewels, cars and her work, one successful picture after another because of her name.

"And yet," she told me, the last time I saw her, "in a sense I have nothing. With all of her troubles—my sister gets more out of life than I do."

My face must have expressed astonishment for she said, "Go see her when you get back to New York and you'll understand why."

I did see the sister—in a Bronx courtroom. She was sitting in a front row seat. "My husband was caught in a raid on a crap game at an after-hours bottle club," she explained.

"I saw your sister in California," I said.

She didn't hear me. Her eyes were on a group of seedy, hollow-eyed, unshaven men being herded in from the prisoners' pen by a court attendant.

"There's my husband," she cried, her face lighting up as a slightly rumpled but still dapper man looked her way and smiled reassuringly. "It's okay, honey," she whispered—her mouth shaping the words.

"I just got bail for him," she explained turning to me. "Had to hook everything but it's worth it. Gee, I love that man!"

Dear Helen: A nervous breakdown—I guess marriage got too much for me, cause my husband to look elsewhere for companionship. I found lipstick on his shirts when I came home from the hospital so filed for divorce, then, because I love him, withdrew the suit, began taking an interest in myself, the children and our home. But my husband won't come back. The kids miss him terrible. Baby is always asking, "Where's Daddy?"

Should I continue to wait, hoping he will return? We get along fine when he comes to see the children and bring us money but he never stays long. —Miserable

Dear Miserable: If you continue to keep yourself, children and home attractive, your husband will eventually return. The very fact that he looks you up and brings money shows that he cares. Talk to the psychiatrist whose patient you were. If he can reassure your husband that all is well with you, so much the better.

Dear Helen: My folks have cut down on my allowance and I don't like it. They say I spend entirely too much on records. Don't you think they should be glad that I care enough about music to invest in records? —Want to Learn.

Dear Want: That depends on the kind of records you buy. If classical, yes; if popular, no. Not that it matters too much because record buying isn't the real issue with you teens. It's rebellion against parental authority. Stop griping. Teens are doing pretty well. According to statistics they now spend over $30 million a year on records!

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cold Wave Pushes Through Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold wave moved into Arkansas today, pushing expected rains out of the state and dampening hopes for a lessened forest fire hazard.

Temperatures dropped to the mid teens as skies cleared in North Arkansas early today. They were below freezing in most of the state. In the Texarkana area, a minimum of 38 was reported.

The Weather Bureau predicted no rain.

Little change in temperatures was expected Wednesday.

The forest fire situation was somewhat improved Monday, the state Forestry Commission reported. Only 37 fires were reported, and they burned over 789 acres of grass and timber land.

Three big fires burned over 306 acres near Harrison. One fire near Salem burned over 198 acres.

A commission spokesman said the threat would be lessened today by the lower temperatures and the fact that few people would be in the woods.

GP Sales Total a New Record
PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Georgia-Pacific Corp. reports that 1963 operations established all-time highs in sales, earnings and cash flow.

The firm, which has extensive timber holdings in south Arkansas, registered sales of $451 million, an 18.9 per cent increase over 1962.

Net income after taxes was $28,540,000 compared with $24,865,000 in 1962. Income per common share amounted to $2.90, up $2.58 in 1962.

Cash flow increased 12.3 per cent to $60,670,000 compared with $54,005,000 in 1962.

British Avert Disorders in Africa
By PATRICK J. MASSEY
LONDON (AP)—A quick swoop by British troops in East Africa appears to have averted, temporarily at least, an explosion of Congo-like anarchy which could have provided a new battle front for communism.

Military mutinies in Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda last week were crushed by British soldiers summoned by the leaders of the nations, which won independence from British colonial rule in the past three years.

Though the upheavals were suppressed, the tensions behind them simmer on.

It was a mutiny of Congolese troops that touched off the chaos following the Congo's independence in 1960. But the premier of the Congo then, the late Patrice Lumumba, resisted the use of troops from the former colonial power, Belgium. Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya, Julius Nyerere of Tanganyika and Milton Obote of Uganda invited the British troops back, although Nyerere's invitation was issued only after a second outbreak.

Underlying the upheavals is a problem common to any African territory emerging to independence from colonial domination.

Nationalist leaders who fought the long independence battle spurred on their followers with promises of the fine life that freedom would bring. When freedom dawned, it became apparent the fine life might take some time to deliver.

Africans who live on less than $60 a year, the average was in Tanganyika, found the well-paid posts and big houses still occupied by European civil servants and businessmen because there weren't enough Africans qualified to take their places.

Hotels and restaurants no longer have any color bar, but their prices keep out all but a wealthy fringe of Africans.

This is particularly true in the armies.

African soldiers find they are still taking orders from white officers retained by Nationalist leaders.

In such circumstances there is a tendency for the taste of independence to turn rapidly sour. When trouble erupts like the revolution in Zanzibar two weeks ago, passions are likely to be inflamed across neighboring territories.

Diplomatic and other observers in London think Communist influence undoubtedly plays a part in fomenting and inflaming grievances. For example, John Okello, military leader of the Zanzibar revolution, was trained in Cuba.

But events in Africa in recent years indicate that communism does not easily take root in primitive and tribal cultures.

The African leaders who called in British troops to support their prestige weakened at home and open to Communist propaganda attack. But for the time being they have averted the chaos in which Communist agents usually find their richest opportunities.

Cautions About Burning Anything
LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Gov. Orval E. Faubus issued a statement today calling on Arkansians to refrain from burning anything outdoors until the state gets a general rain.

Faubus said there have been 152 forest fires in Arkansas in the past three days, burning over 4,000 acres of forest land.

He issued the statement before leaving for speeches at Jonesboro and Paragould.

Make My Bed Soon

THE STORY: Returning to Phoenix, Duffey is no sooner settled in his hotel than he receives a visit from a fat man who was at Solly's. Duffey sends the fat man on his way, warning him not to return.

VIII
It was quite some time before I felt steady enough to pick up the phone.

The operator gave me room service.

"Would you please send two double Scotchies, a filet medium rare, French-fried potatoes, and a pot of coffee to room 225."

"Let that two orders or one, sir?"

"One," I said.

"Yes, sir."

I didn't dare lie down on the bed for fear I wouldn't be able to get up. So I slid the gun into my hip pocket, crossed the room, and lowered myself into the arm chair. Leaning forward to keep my bruised shoulder away from the upholstered back, I was still sitting there, half bent over with my elbows on my knees, when room service arrived.

The boy wheeling the tray whistled when I turned my back to him.

"Yeah," I said, "It looks real good."

He shook his head. "I never saw anything like it. What happened?"

"I bruise easily. Do you suppose you could cut that steak for me while I have a drink?"

Getting back to the chair, I felt the gun in my back pocket. If he had seen it and reported it, a visit from the Phoenix police would really round out my welcome to the valley. I sipped some Scotch and it tasted fine, cold and medicinal. He removed the stainless-steel cover from the hot plate and was cutting my filet into neat squares.

He kept his eyes on his job while he asked, "Have you seen a doctor?"

"For a scratch like this?"

"You kidding?"

"Let's say I'm not."

He put the cover back on the steak and rolled the cart over in front of me. I signed the check and gave him a couple of bucks for his trouble. I didn't mention the gun and neither did he. He thanked me and I asked him to lock the door on his way out.

I had opened the door with my right hand and had been able to hold a pen and sign the service check. But it hadn't been any pleasure, and I ate slowly, holding the fork in my left hand.

I had sent Solly's fat man away. I had cut a possibly useful connection with Charlton because I was jealous of his and somebody else's woman. Jinx and Jimmy Turner were dead. I had accepted Lieutenant Valerich's covert apology with poor grace, and I had been kicked out of Scottsville by the Chief of Police. All in all, I had made a tremendous beginning on returning Al Duffey to the human race. I should write a sequel to that famous book on status seekers. I could write it from the point of view of an ex-con working his way down.

Then I thought of Maggie and Herbert. Maggie had liked me. Herbert would like some more inside, birthbreeding dope from my father. Like the Yamanu chis, they could offer an island, give me a little time. Unlike the Yamanuchis, Maggie could tell me something more about Gail. What a name for a woman! Feminine, perhaps, but with out softness. Gail. Spell it an other way and it was a storm. The tub didn't help much. I lay there, steaming in the kind of water that would cook the marbled meat of my shoulder, and thought about her. Before the clambake there had been Mernie.

It had been a very long time since I had thought about Mernie, because Mernie was a dangerous thing to think about, especially when I was stuck in jail. Only in Las Vegas it had not mattered too much one way or the other; there are too many desperately lonely women in Las Vegas. Now, thinking about Mernie, it didn't matter much either.

I had been released from the hospital to active duty in June of '51; returned to U.S. and discharged in December. I had married Mernie, on June 15. It had been in '56 I married Mernie, Mercedes Marschallin, and she hadn't even known her name came from an opera. Four months after she left me, I went to Las Vegas. July and still taking orders from white officers retained by Nationalist leaders.

In such circumstances there is a tendency for the taste of independence to turn rapidly sour. When trouble erupts like the revolution in Zanzibar two weeks ago, passions are likely to be inflamed across neighboring territories.

Diplomatic and other observers in London think Communist influence undoubtedly plays a part in fomenting and inflaming grievances. For example, John Okello, military leader of the Zanzibar revolution, was trained in Cuba.

Loyola Is Not Delighted With Drop in Poll

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Most of the nation's college basketball teams would be delighted with a ranking as 10th best in the country. The Ramblers of Chicago Loyola, however, took it as something of an affront.

The Ramblers, who tumbled from third to 10th in the latest national rankings, started on the road back Monday with a 70-56 conquest of Dayton's Flyers.

Coach George Ireland's defending national champions had lost two straight, which cost them dearly in the national poll, before the rebound against Dayton for their 12th victory in 15 starts.

And it wasn't easy. Dayton had closed to within one point, 57-56, when the Flyers' 6-foot-11 Hank Finkel fouled out. The Ramblers took advantage of his absence to run off 13 straight points for the final margin.

DePaul, No. 9, was the only other ranked team in action and got by Indiana 85-78.

In other major games, Michigan State rallied for a 102-99 triumph over Ohio State and Tennessee took the lead in the Southeastern Conference by beating Georgia Tech 83-63.

DePaul's triumph was its 13th without loss this season. Key figures were 6-10 sophomore Dave Mills and Jim Murphy. Mills scored 25 points and Murphy broke a 60-60 tie and sent DePaul ahead to stay with two key free throws and a field goal. He finished with 23 points.

Wichita Has Moved Up in Nat'l Ranks

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Wichita a frontier boom-town when gunslingsers roamed its streets, is prancing again, thanks to a band of tall sharpshooters in sneakers.

The University of Wichita Wheatshockers are the new cut-ups and their game is high-calibre basketball.

Last week the Shockers bolted into the 1964 college championship picture with an 80-76 victory over Chicago Loyola, last year's titlist. The victory, Wichita's 14th in 17 games, lifted the Kansans from 10th to seventh place in The Associated Press' major college cage poll and helped shuffle the Ramblers from third position to 10th.

If the Missouri Valley Conference leaders keep winning, Wichita could be the No. 1 spot on the basketball map in March when the NCAA Midwest Regional playoffs are contested there.

UCLA's unbeaten Bruins are still No. 1 in the AP poll of 40 writers and broadcasters. The Pacific Coast powerhouse, idle last week, received 22 first-place votes and 392 points. UCLA has won 15 straight games.

Michigan's Big Ten front-runners, 14-1 on the season, remained in the No. 2 slot after posting conference victories over Michigan State and Minnesota. The Wolverines collected five first-place votes and 345 points.

Davidson, also unbeaten in 15 games, advanced to third and picked up the remaining pair of first place votes. The Wildcats trampled Wofford, 105-73, in their only start last week.

Kentucky, Vanderbilt and Villanova each moved up a peg to the No. 4, 5 and 6 positions. Kentucky, 14-2, topped Southeastern Conference rival Georgia Tech, 79-62. Villanova, 14-1, won twice, trimming Penn and West Chester. Vandy, 13-1, did not play. Neither did ninth-ranked DePaul, only other unbeaten major at 12-0.

Duke 11-3, held the No. 8 spot after squeezing by Tennessee, 67-65, in double overtime.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, season records through Saturday, Jan. 25 are points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

Won	Lost	Pts.
1. UCLA 33	15	0 392
2. Michigan 5	14	1 345
3. Davidson 2	15	0 268
4. Kentucky 14	2	2 261
5. Vanderbilt 13	1	1 192
6. Villanova 14	1	1 169
7. Wichita 14	3	1 157
8. Duke 11	3	1 106
9. DePaul 12	0	1 101

The Houston Colts Are Still Building

By HARRY CRAFT

Manager, Houston Colts

INVRSS, Fla. (AP) —The 1964 season will again be a building year for the Colts. Our youth movement is still in high gear, but the recent baseball legislation that permits the four expansion clubs to option out four additional first-year players has eased our situation.

Instead of having to protect nine of the 10 first-year players that were on our roster this winter, we may now have to protect just three or four of these players. This allows us to acquire players who will be of more service to the club in the 1964 season. The recent acquisition of second baseman Nellie Fox from the Chicago White Sox is a good example of the steps we can now take in order to improve our performance in 1964.

Pitching again appears to be our strong suit with veterans Dick Farrell, Don Nottebart, Ken Johnson, Hal Brown and Bob Bruce and youngsters Chris Zachary, Dave Giusti and Larry Yellen battling for the starting berths. Left-hander Hal Woodeschick, who had an outstanding 1963 season with 11 victories and eight saves, and a former Milwaukee Brave, Claude Raymond, figure to handle the short relief work.

The catching chores will be in the hands of two 21-year-olds—John Bateman and rookie Jerry Grote. Bateman led the club in homers and runs-batted-in last season and fied down the driveway.

The man dropped a nother knife as he ran, Flettshock said, but continued across the highway into the woods.

He said after the girl's wound was cared for he drove to a telephone four miles away and notified authorities.

Bloodhounds were brought in from Cummins Prison Farm to help in the search, which was hampered by a forest fire in the area.

Five fires were reported in the area Sunday night. Deputy Sheriff C. B. Renegar said authorities thought the man was setting the fires in an effort to cover his trail.

U.S. Scores Technical Olympic Win

By TED SMITS

Associated Press Sports Editor

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP) —The United States and Canada scored important pre-game victories, South Africa suffered a setback and injuries and ailments continued to plague the numerous nations as they put the finishing touches on their Winter Olympic preparations today.

The practice sessions have claimed two dead and numerous injured. The games don't open until Wednesday, but these major points came out of the conference rooms and playing rinks Monday:

1. The United States scored a major but unofficial victory when it placed Billy Kidd, Stowe, Vt., and Bud Werner, Steamboat Springs, Colo., among the top seeds for the men's downhill ski race, scheduled Thursday.

2. Canada's hockey team, which has had its troubles in pre-Olympic practice games, romped over Yugoslavia 14-1 in an elimination round to select the Olympic championship field.

3. The International Olympic Committee government body for the vast organization, announced it had withdrawn an invitation to South Africa to compete in the summer games in Tokyo until and if that nation's Olympic representatives can persuade its government to amend its racial policies in relation to selection of teams.

The major item today was a scheduled announcement by the IOC on the site of the 1968 Winter Games. Six nations have entered bids, with Calgary, Canada, the favorite. Others are Lake Placid, N.Y.; Lahti, Finland; Grenoble, France; Oslo, Norway; and Sapporo, Japan.

After first rejecting an American protest about the seedings procedure in the downhill race, the International Ski Federation reversed itself and placed Kidd and Werner in the first group to go down the steep, dangerous course at Mt. Patscherkofel. In the second round, the 20-year-old Kidd drew the No. 1 position and Werner No. 8.

The Americans had protested on the ground that races in the United States were not given proper consideration. The U.S. skiers received low ratings because they did not compete in season and Grote comes highly touted as a fine defensive receiver.

Our infield could be the most improved department. Eddie Kasko, whom we got from Cincinnati, should be a big help at shortstop. I plan to play either Rusty Staub, who has shown signs of a great future, or Pete Runnels at first base. We hope Runnels will make a comeback after his disappointing season. If he does, Staub can be moved to the outfield.

The second base job will be handed to Fox, with rookie Mike White in reserve. We hope Bob Aspromonte, our third baseman, will shake his back woes and return to his 1962 form. If not, Jim Wynn, who will be given a thorough shot at the center field job, can be moved to third.

Bob Lillis has been a capable performer at short and will spell Kasko at that position.

Al Spangler should be a fixture in left field. Spangler led the club in hitting and total bases and made only three errors last season. Carl Warwick has the edge for right field. He was hitting .325 on June 15, then went into a second-half slump.

Johnny Weekly and Walter Bond, both with fine minor league records, and rookie Walter Williams are expected to battle Spangler and Warwick for regular jobs. Center field is still our question mark. We are hopeful Jim Wynn will be the answer. He has shown great promise with the bat.

Allen Hits 49 in AM&N Win

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) —

James Mack Allen hit 49 points for Arkansas AM&N Monday night as the Golden Lions defeated Alcorn College of Lorman, Miss., 109-96 and got their 15th basketball victory of the season.

The Golden Lions were ahead 60-51 at the half and were ahead most of the game after trailing briefly in the first period. Odell Agnew led Alcorn scoring with 32 points.

The victory gave AM&N a 15-2 season record and Alcorn dropped to 10-6 on the loss.

Findings on Smoking Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) —

The Public Health Service announced today acceptance of the principal findings and conclusions of the report of the Surgeon General's advisory committee on smoking and health.

The committee of experts said that on the basis of prolonged study and evaluation of many lines of evidence it had reached this judgment: "Cigarette smoking is a health hazard of sufficient importance in the United States to warrant appropriate remedial action."

At the time the report was made public Jan. 11, Surgeon General Luther Terry said it did not represent the official position of the health service. He said a decision on this would be reached after completion of an analysis and study by members of his staff.

Announcing acceptance of the principal findings and conclusions, Terry said the service is now developing programs for action which are needed and feasible in light of the findings and conclusions.

These plans, to be announced shortly, will cover education, public information and research activities, Terry said.

He said the service has sent the following notice to the medical officers in charge of the 16 Public Health Service hospitals and 50 Indian hospitals:

"In view of the findings of the Surgeon General's advisory committee on smoking and health, the following actions are to be undertaken at all Public Health Service facilities where medical care is provided:

"1. acceptance of free cigarettes for distribution to patients will be discontinued immediately.

"2. medical officers in charge are urged to conduct education-

Still Plenty of Life in 'Cheyenne'

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What ever happened to Clint Walker? The 6-foot-6 actor has rarely been heard from since he loped into the sunset as "Cheyenne" over a year ago.

He had shot his way out of the popular television series after seven years as its star. Some cynics predicted he also had gunned down his career.

"This is to let them know that there still is plenty of life in the big boy. It is beginning to show after a season of waiting and watching."

"There were times last year when nothing seemed to be working for me," he said. "But I never gave up hope, and I didn't go hungry. I could earn just as much on my own as I did under contract to Warners."

How? By tugging the rodeo circuit. Clint spent five months of the year appearing with the broncos and brahmas for big money.

"When I first went out, I was scared to death," he admitted. "My throat dried up so I couldn't talk, and my knees were actually shaking. But gradually I got used to it, and now I look forward to playing rodeos. I guess that proves there's plenty of ham in me."

He admitted that it was good experience — he had to tell jokes and sing and be prepared for any emergency. Once he fell off his horse, but saved the situation with a wisecrack.

"When you can hold an audience of 10,000 people, you begin to feel pretty confident," said Clint.

Unfortunately, Hollywood producers didn't share his confidence. They still saw him as the laconic, stalwart Cheyenne and tried to cast him accordingly.

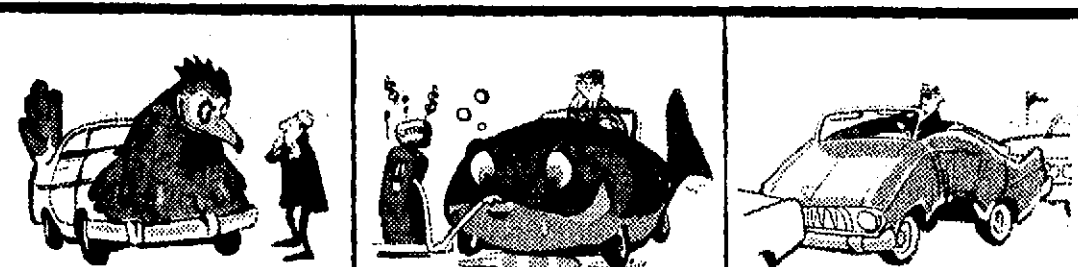

"I turned down about two dozen movie scripts because they didn't seem good for me," he said.

His rodeo experience led to a guest appearance with Jack Benny, and that has led to a lot of things. Right now he's doing a comedy role as a Texas tycoon with Doris Day, Rock Hudson and Tony Randall in "Send Me No Flowers." Universal also has signed him for other pictures, and he has deals cooking at three other studios.
